Ray Mansell, Jr.

The Class of 1992

Kelleys Islanders can be proud of their class of 1992: Pamela Haig, Michael Ludu, and Raymond Mansell. All three began school here on the Island and opted to finish their educations on the mainland.

Pamela Haig, daughter of Pat and Ken Haig, graduated from St. Mary's Central Catholic High School in Sandusky, and will be attending Bowling Green State University in September, majoring in Chemical Engineering. Pam is a talented artist, and some of her work is frequently on display at Seaway Marina. She recently was named District Winner of the Ohio Governor's Award, and took two second and two third place People's Choice Awards at a show hosted by St. Mary's. Pam is receiving a grant from the Committee for Quality Education in recognition of her accomplishments.

Raymond Mansell, son of Ray and Mary Mansell, also graduated from St. Mary's. He will also be attending Bowling Green State University in September, and plans to major in Computer Science. Ray's high school accomplishments earned him the a $1,750 prize from the William Goldberg Scholarship Fund, sponsored by Carpenter's Local 25 from Cleveland. The scholarship will be paid out over two years.

Michael Ludu, son of Annie and John Ludu, graduated this year from EHOVE, the Erie, Huron, and Ottawa Vocational Education Center. Mike has a real aptitude for mechanics, and was named the 1992 Automotive Technology Student of the Year.

Graduation ceremonies were held on the Island June 6 in the Old Village Hall, with a reception following in the Pavilion

World Capitals

Almost everybody knows that Rome and Paris and London are capital cities. But most of the world is covered with countries where few know what their capitals are. So in keeping with our recent educational themes in puzzles, we present this challenge to find the capitals shown below. Only the cities are in the puzzle, and the nations are only shown for educational purposes. As usual, words are formed in all directions.

Phases and Seasons

Birthday greetings to Dick Sennish on June 7, Lisa Schwartz on June 10, Danny Ahner and Ester Sennish on June 12, Jessie Martin on June 17, and Jean Kuyoth on the 18th. Also, Happy Anniversary to Jack and Fran Daley on June 7.

Jessie Martin has a new book out: The Beginnings and Tales of the Lake Erie Islands. It opens with a brief history of the Island, and is a series of very short tales about people and events that happened in the area. It is for sale on the Island, and is also available in Marblehead at the Richmond Gallery, where they are selling about 50 copies per week.

Heinz and Kate Boker are back on the Island, after spending the winter in North Dakota. Dr. Boker traditionally spends part of his year helping the less privileged, and worked on an Indian reservation this year. We look forward to hearing more about it.

You may have noticed a new addition to the airplane fleet on Kelleys Island: John and Jean Kuyoth finally have their restored Tri-Pacer flying again. John began painting it ten years ago, and as with all do-it-yourself projects, it took much more time and money than anticipated. Their son Chris also flies the plane, and did a lot of work in the restoration efforts.

Barbara and Bob Behlen's daughter, Andi, is making her first-ever trip to the Island this month to help celebrate her father's 70th birthday. Barb also reports that she and Bob became grandparents for the first time on June 2. Margaret Caul Behlen was born in Baltimore. Proud parents are Michele and Fritz Behlen.

There's another new business on the Island. Rob and Kim Watkins have opened The Island Fudge Shop in the building next to their store (it shares a building with the Village Peddler). Becky Linhardt was on hand to help with the final touches. The shop features cards, gifts, rainy day amusements for the kids, and lots of candy and fudge.

Dave Van Auken has installed several antique games—the kind that were around before video games. They are located in David's, and are great fun. And Danny Ahner has installed a strange contraption in front of the Caddyshack. The Orbitron, which was the source of much speculation recently (what is that thing? a sundial?), and is a game of sorts where the willing victim is spun around in all directions, firmly held in by boots bolted in place. It was installed by Tony Joyce and Tom Joyce, who were strangely unwilling to get in and demonstrate it.

Watch for Pam Betzenheimer lounging around her new pool—but look fast! The fence is going up soon.

Although there is no truth to the rumor that a tsunami was experienced by the island, Dave Phinney did lose his challenge of the law of gravity between a boat and a boardwalk on Put-in-Bay.

Engagement Announced

Robert and Joanne Golias proudly announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Michelle Golias, to Patrick Allen Conlan. He is the son of Thomas and Carroll Conlan of Toledo, Ohio. They plan to wed in the fall of 1993. Carol and Patrick both attend the University of Toledo. Carol will receive her B.A. in Psychology on June 13, and will complete her second degree in sociology this fall. She will be attending Nursing school in January.
